

A goldfish is captured mid-jump, leaping out of a clear glass filled with water. The fish is bright orange and is positioned in the upper right quadrant of the frame. The water is splashing upwards and outwards, creating numerous droplets and a large, dynamic splash that dominates the center and left side of the image. The background is a plain, light color, making the water and fish stand out.

why limit yourself? buddhism & meditation

15/10/2011

10.00am - 5.00pm

intro day

the eyre chapel,
behind nag's head pub,
newbold rd, chesterfield S41 8RJ

www.sheffieldbuddhistcentre.org info@sheffieldbuddhistcentre.org t:0114 234 9994 / m:07748 900 100

veggie lunch provided

donations welcome

(suggested £20 / £15)